

Logistics Operations School

Lieutenant Colonel William Wroten Jr., Head of Combat Service and Combat Service and Support, Ground Training Branch, Training and Education Command (TECOM), leads a discussion about logistics training and education gap analysis briefing with officers, senior enlisted and civilian Marines at Camp Johnson, NC, April 22, 2010. This briefing is to discuss how TECOM should design the Logistics Officers and the Advanced Logistics Operations Chiefs courses to better teach officers and Staff Non-Commissioned Officers how to operate more proficiently in the fleet Marine forces. (U.S. Marine Corps photo by Lance Corporal Matthew L. Hebert)(Released)